

Fire Burns Yule Lights; Tree, Trimmings Saved

The Vincent Casciatos at 420 E. Dewey Ave. are having a Christmas tree even if fire did burn up their lights.

They were trimming their tree at 5 p. m. Sunday when, suddenly, fire broke out as the result, firemen say, of a short circuit in a string of lights. Cotton beneath the tree broke into flames.

Firemen were called and they immediately put out the flames with some $100 damage to furniture and the house.

However, the Christmas tree was saved and the Casciatos family went right ahead and trimmed it—without lights.

News Notes